

US LUA2023 Annual Meeting “Logistics”

December 12-15th 2023

Kaori Maeshima
on behalf of LOC

The poster for the US LUA 2023 Annual Meeting features a dark blue background. At the top right is the circular logo for the US Large Hadron Collider Users Association (US LUA). The main title 'US LUA 2023 Annual Meeting' is in white, with the dates 'December 12-15' and location 'Fermilab, Batavia, Illinois' below it. A grid of three images shows the Fermilab building, a landscape with a red circle, and two bison. Text on the left describes the LHC Users Association's role. The center lists the Local Organizing Committee members, and the right lists the US LUA Meeting Organizers. A QR code and registration information are at the bottom left, and the Fermilab logo is at the bottom right.

US LUA
2023 Annual Meeting

December 12–15
Fermilab, Batavia, Illinois

The US LHC Users Association represents the US community of scientists and engineers working in the LHC physics and accelerator programs, and provides a forum of support for, and discussion of, US participation at CERN. We aim to support and uplift US personnel — particularly early-career scientists and engineers — as well as acting as a communications channel between the community, US agencies, and the Congressional and Executive Branches.
